

QView

Facilitating good governance

What is QView?

QView is a secure multi-functional online information portal that enables trustees and authorised parties of Defined Benefit and Defined Contribution occupational pension schemes to access scheme information in a straightforward and intuitive way.

QView includes the following functionality:

- Easy access to information such as the trust deed & rules and member booklets;
- Automatically generated email notifications when items are added to QView e.g. briefing papers;
- Scheme planner to ensure all parties are aware of forthcoming meetings and work deadlines;
- Access to articles on a wide range of topical pension issues;

- The ability for trustees to assess their pensions knowledge against the Pensions Regulator's Trustee Knowledge & Understanding syllabus, allowing targeted training to address any areas of perceived weakness;
- Access to real-time scheme information.

Why use QView?

The use of QView has been proven to be of material benefit to trustees in a number of areas:

Speed of access to scheme specific information

Trustees are able to access scheme information quickly and efficiently, delivering efficiency to the decision making process e.g. exercising discretion on non-standard member cases such as ill-health early retirements.

Security of Scheme information

Trustees no longer have to find a secure storage facility, or safe method of disposal for sensitive scheme information such as meeting papers, minutes and advice reports.

Trustee development

QView allows trustees to easily self-assess their pensions knowledge against the Pensions Regulator's Trustee Knowledge & understating requirements, helping to identify areas where training is required. It is also possible to combine the self-assessments of the trustee board as a whole, on an anonymous basis, to aid the delivery of group training.

Keep abreast of industry developments and views

Access to topical pensions articles and links to external websites of potential interest help trustees keep up to date with the latest developments in the pensions industry.

Access to real-time scheme information

QView enables trustees to view real-time scheme membership statistics and to compare the delivery of administration services against agreed Service Level Standards.
